EL202 ESL Writing Intensive Seminar

Seminar Leader: Mrs. Ariane Simard
Course Times: Monday 15.45 – 19.00 (3:45 p.m. to 7:00 p.m.)
Room: P98-0-Seminar Room 2
Email: a.simard@berlin.bard.edu
Office Hours: TBD

Course Description

Welcome to the Frankenstein edition of The ESL Writing Intensive. This course is designed to develop the writing skills of non-native English speakers to prepare for academic work in American Standard English (ASE). Over the course of the semester, students will develop an effective and original academic writing voice as well as review grammar and learn how to cite academic sources. Building on the Language & Thinking workshops, we will put into practice essential writing techniques such as drafting, research, critical reading skills, peer review, re-writing and workshop. Graded course work includes three short essays (2-4 pages), one in-class essay and one group radio project. Upon successful completion of the class, you should be able to think critically, as well as construct compelling narratives and effective written academic arguments. Through Ahmed Saadwai’s novel Frankenstein of Baghdad, we will aim to define the terms ‘human’ and ‘monster’ in various forms. We will also take a look at some ideas about ‘other’, ‘monstrous’ and ‘alien’ in relation to some essays and films, including Ana Lily Amirpour’s vampire film A Girl Walks At Home Alone at Night, Nagel’s essay “What is it like to be a Bat” and some plays and short stories including Arthur Miller’s “Crucible” and Nathaniel Hawthorne’s “Young Goodman Brown”

This class takes an approach that good writing is as much a practice as anything else. Much of the course work is designed to help you develop a strong personal habit of writing. There is no busy work in this class.

Requirements

Please show up on time, ready to write. Readings should be completed before class. This class will be run as an active workshop, which means that students should be ready to participate in peer reviews and discussions about the work during class time.

You will have a lot of opportunity to discuss their work with me and should feel free to talk about how you are approaching the assignment in one-on-one meetings. In addition, you can arrange to meet with me to discuss any concerns or writing challenges you might be working through.

Online Class Location and Contacting Instructor

You can find the syllabus, handouts, reading material and assignments on the google classroom site. You can reach me at a.simard@bard.berlin.edu. It’s helpful if you use a subject line that is pertinent.
If the entire class is willing, we can also create a WhatsApp list to keep in contact.

You can find a Fall 2018 course schedule online at:
http://www.berlin.bard.edu/academics/courses/fall-2018/

Required Texts

Frankenstein of Baghdad by Ahmed Saadawi

Diary of a Grammar Zombie by Jennie Wadsworth (available for free online)

Handouts (provided in class or as links online)
"Young Goodman Brown" and "Rappaccini’s Daughter" by Nathaniel Hawthorne
Excerpt from “The Crucible” by Arthur Miller
"What is it like to be a Bat" by Thomas Nagel (L&T Reader)
Excerpt from “Orientalism” by Edward Said
"Vindication of the Rights of Women" Mary Wollstoncraft (L&T Reader)
“Gender is Burning” Judith Butler (L&T Reader)

Recommended Texts for further reading (at any point in your college career)

On Writing Well by William Zinsser
(a complete .pdf is available online at Bryn Mawr College)
"The Secret of Names" by Ursula Le Guin
Drawing Down the Moon by Margot Adler
The Serpent and the Rainbow by Wade Davis
Orientalism by Edward Said
Bodies That Matter by Judith Butler
An Ordinary Person’s Guide to Empire by Arundathi Roy

Attendance

Attendance for ALL classes is expected. More than one absence in a semester will significantly affect the participation grade for the course. Students who have missed more than 30% of the class, may risk failure.

Please see the Student Handbook for regulations governing periods of illness or a leave of absence.

Academic Integrity
Bard College Berlin maintains the staunchest regard for academic integrity and expects good academic practice from students in their studies. Syllabi should note that, instances in which students fail to meet the expected standards of academic integrity will be dealt with under the Code of Student Conduct, Section III Academic Misconduct.

To further illuminate this point, we will spend actual class discussing the roles of students, professors and staff for maintaining academic integrity. We will also discuss nonviolent teaching practices and methods students can implement to create a safe, harmonious learning environment for themselves.

Graded Assignments

In-Class Writing
We open every class with a brief, in-class writing assignment to get our minds attuned with writing.

Reading Notes
Notes on all assigned reading posed in the form of observation, questions and comments.

Narrative Essay
The Narrative Essay is a two-to-three page essay describing a true story about your-self. We will use this essay as a way to examine the relationship between author and academic authority. Expect to write more than one draft of this essay.

In-Class Essay
The In-Class will be on two texts we work on as a class. Students will be given tips to help prepare for the in-class essay weeks in advance of the date.

Descriptive Essay
The descriptive essay is a short report that helps to define a term or set of events for the reader. We will work on this essay together as a class.

Application Analysis Essay
The Application Analysis Essay is a three-to-four page essay analyzing a few texts using the ideas of another text. We will use this essay as a way to examine critical analysis and also as a way to showcase some of the techniques used in the two previous essays. Expect to write more than one draft of this essay.

Final Radio Group Project
We will break up into small groups and produce a radio project to present online to the class.

Peer Review Letters
Letters written to your peers assessing your peer’s rough draft. The letter discusses what works and what doesn’t work in your peer’s writing. A Peer Review Letter is due with every essay assignment.

Grammar Quizzes
Short, take home quizzes reviewing grammar topics covered in class. Source material for the quizzes include OWL Purdue, A Short Guide To College Writing and On Writing Well as well as The Grammar Zombie handbook.

Assignment Deadlines
All written assignments are due electronically and should be uploaded to the virtual class portal, Google Classroom Folder by Monday at midnight.

Policy on Late Submission of Papers
Essays that are up to 24 hours late will be downgraded one full grade (from B+ to C+, for example). Instructors are not obliged to accept essays that are more than 24 hours late. Where an instructor agrees to accept a late essay, it must be submitted within four weeks of the deadline and cannot receive a grade of higher than C.

Thereafter, the student will receive a failing grade for the assignment.

Grade Breakdown

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Assignment</th>
<th>Percentage</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Essay Assignments</td>
<td>50%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Peer Review</td>
<td>20%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>In-class Writing &amp; Reading Notes</td>
<td>10%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Grammar Quizzes</td>
<td>10%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Participation (including self-assessment)</td>
<td>10%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Schedule

I. Identity and Narrative—Writing about yourself
Using our personal stories as a way to access narrative structure, we will examine the way stories are told in both oral and written form. What makes a narrative compelling? Why are stories important? In addition we will talk about stories told from a first person point of view, like Frankenstein and what that rhetorical device does to help move a narrative forward.
In addition to writing a narrative we will talk about note taking, reading critically, peer review, drafting, workshop techniques, transitions, word order, using clauses (and punctuation) correctly, and authorial point of view.

Week One—Monday, September 3rd, 2018

Course Introduction
Finding Subject Matter
Narrative Essay assigned

Week Two—Monday, September 10th, 2018

Naming Subject Matter
Discussion Frankenstein of Baghdad pp 1-78

Week Three—Monday, September 17th, 2018

Discussion Frankenstein of Baghdad pp 79-158

Week Four—Monday, September 24th, 2018

NARRATIVE ESSAY
Second Draft due Tuesday Sep. 25th at midnight
Discussion Frankenstein of Baghdad pp 231-288
Excerpt from “Orientalism” by Edward Said
Grammar Quiz Chapters 1,2,3 and 4 Diary of a Grammar Zombie

II. Monster vs. Human—On naming

In Ursula Le Guin’s short story “The Secret of Names,” a magician tries to kill a monster by calling out its true name. While we are not out to slay any monsters (we’ll leave that to the villagers), we do want to be able to define what a monster is. While we are at it, we will read some writers who also are grappling with how to define people or groups of people. After we have some critical ideas and definitions in hand, we’ll take those ideas and try to integrate them into our own descriptive writing.
In addition to writing a descriptive essay, we will continue to work on note taking, reading critically, peer review, drafting, workshop techniques, transitions, word order, using clauses (and punctuation) correctly, and the techniques of writing effective description. We will also look at MLA and APA guidelines and talk about how to cite outside sources.

Week Five—Monday, Oct 1st, 2018
NARRATIVE ESSAY
Final Draft due Tuesday Oct. 2nd at midnight
Film Screening A Woman Walks at Home Alone at Night
Discussion "What is it Like to be a Bat" Thomas Nagel

Week Six—Monday, October 8th, 2018
In-Class ESSAY
(There will be no make-ups if you miss the in-class essay)

Week Seven—Monday, October 15th, 2018
Excerpt from “The Crucible” by Arthur Miller and “Young Goodman Brown” by Nathaniel Hawthorne
“Gender is Burning” by Judith Butler

Week Eight—Monday, October 22nd, 2018
DESCRIPTIVE ESSAY
Draft due Tuesday Oct. 23rd at midnight
Grammar Quiz Chapters 5, 6 and 7 Diary of a Grammar Zombie
“Rappaccini’s Daughter” by Hawthorn and “Vindication of the Rights of Women” by Wollstonecraft

Week Nine—Monday, November 5th, 2018
Second Draft of Descriptive Essay due
Peer Review session

III. Stitching it all together and bringing it to life

Like Dr. Frankenstein, we will create our own masterpiece. Working in small groups, we’ll create a radio project using some of the ideas and terms we have learned as places to begin our projects. Moving toward a critical response, we will also develop a final paper that will examine the novel through the lens of the critical and philosophical texts we have read. As part of our process of discovery, we will also discuss some of the different kinds of rhetorical arguments you can use in writing and ways these methods might help in drafting stronger essays in the future.

We will continue to work on reading critically, drafting, peer review, workshop, using grammar correctly, and will practice citing outside sources.
Week Ten—Monday, November 12th, 2018
Question and Thesis writing workshop
Radio Assignment
Final Draft of Descriptive Essay

Week Eleven—Monday, November 19th, 2018
Critical Essay first draft due Tuesday, November 20th, 2018
Grammar Quiz Chapters 8,9 and 10 Diary of a Grammar Zombie

Week Twelve—Monday, November 26th, 2018
Radio Project

Week Thirteen—Monday, December 3rd, 2018
Critical Essay second draft due Tuesday, December 4th, 2018
Peer Review session

Week Fourteen—Monday, December 10th, 2018
Final Group Presentations

FINAL ESSAY DUE ON THE LAST DAY OF COMPLETION WEEK by email to Ariane Simard.