AH113 Introduction to Aesthetics

Instructor: Dr. Thomas Hilgers Email: t.hilgers@berlin.bard.edu Course Time: Thu 15:45-19:00 Credits: 8 ECTS, 4 U.S. credits Office Hours: by appointment

Course Description

According to its most general conception, aesthetics is a discipline that investigates the nature of sensory experience and cognition. According to a more narrow conception, it investigates the nature of aesthetic experience and judgment. Finally, aesthetics is often conceived of as an enquiry concerning the nature and value of art, or rather of the fine arts. In this course, students will become familiar with aesthetics according to all three of these conceptions. That is, we will discuss questions such as: 1) what is sensibility? 2) What is beauty? 3) What is an aesthetic experience? 4) Do we need to have aesthetic experiences in order to live a good life? 5) Do we need to have them in order to criticize society and initiate political change? 6) What is an artwork? 7) Are our judgments about art always subjective? 8) Is taste a tool for social distinction and possibly oppression? 9) Can (or must) art be politically relevant? 10) What could it mean to call a work "modern," "postmodern," or "contemporary"? In order to find answers to these questions, we will discuss texts by philosophers, sociologists, and critics, such as Plato, Aristotle, Hume, Kant, Schiller, Nietzsche, Benjamin, Heidegger, Wittgenstein, Adorno, Greenberg, Danto, Dickie, Bourdieu, Lyotard, Butler, Shusterman, and Nehamas.

Classroom Presentations and Term Papers

In this seminar, students will learn how to give a classroom presentation on a philosophical text, and they will learn how to write a term paper on a philosophical topic. We will talk in great detail about how to do research for such a paper, how to compose it, and how to write it in an academically acceptable manner. Moreover, before actually writing her paper, each student must write a paragraph that explains her project. The instructor will then provide her with some feedback on her paragraph and with some advice on how to approach her topic.

Attendance, Academic Integrity, and Requirements

Attendance at all classes is expected. Unexcused absence from more than two sessions of 90 minutes in a semester will significantly affect the participation grade for the course. For regulations governing periods of illness or leaves of absence, students should consult the Student Handbook for regulations. Instances in which students fail to meet the expected standards of academic integrity (for example cases of plagiarism) will be dealt with under the Code of Student Conduct, Section III Academic Misconduct.

Each student must give one classroom presentation and write two papers.

Grade Breakdown

The grade breakdown for this seminar will be as follows:

Final Paper (4000-4800 words): 50 % Midterm Paper (2000-2200 words): 25 % Participation (including one Classroom Presentation): 25 %

Policy on Late Submission of Papers

Papers that are up to 24 hours late will be downgraded one full grade (from B+ to C+, for example). Papers that are turned in even later will still be accepted within four weeks of the deadline, but they will not receive a grade higher than C.

Literature

Most readings for this seminar will be combined as a reader, which can be purchased at the library. Moreover, there are three books that students must buy.

Books to buy

- 1. Kant, Immanuel, Critique of the Power of Judgment, translated by Paul Guyer and Eric Matthews, Cambridge University Press, 2002.
- 2. Plato, Republic, trans. by Allan Bloom, Basic Books, 2016.

3. Schiller, Friedrich, On the Aesthetic Education of Man, trans. by Reginald Snell, Angelico Press, 2015.

Throughout the seminar, the instructor will suggest further readings and helpful secondary literature. A few useful and informative books to start with could be the following:

- 1. Gaut, Berys, The Routledge Companion to Aesthetics.
- 2. Guyer, Paul, A History of Aesthetics, three volumes.
- 3. Kelly, Michael, Encyclopedia of Aesthetics, several volumes.
- 4. Kivy, Peter, The Blackwell Guide to Aestehtics.
- 5. Levinson, Jerrold, The Oxford Handbook of Aesthetics.

The Stanford Encyclopedia of Philosophy is an online encyclopedia that generally offers many excellent articles on topics and philosophers that will be discussed in this seminar.

Computers (including all forms of tablets and smartphones) are not allowed during classes.
