

Levy Institute Scholarship

Description

The Levy Economics Institute of Bard College, founded in 1986 through the generous support of Bard College trustee Leon Levy, is a nonprofit, nonpartisan, public policy research organization. The Levy Institute is independent of any political or other affiliation, and encourages diversity of opinion in the examination of economic policy issues while striving to transform ideological arguments into informed debate. The Levy Institute Scholarship at Bard College Berlin is intended to support exceptionally promising students in the Economics, Politics, and Social Thought program.

Award amount: 10,000 EUR tuition waiver (may be increased to 50% tuition waiver upon demonstration of financial need)

Criteria

Applicants for the Levy Institute Scholarship must:

- Apply for admission to the B.A. in Economics, Politics, and Social Thought program as an entering first-year student
- Demonstrate excellent preparation for the course through a strong academic record in mathematics, economics, and/or history/social studies
- Demonstrate an extracurricular interest in economics and politics, for example through involvement in student government, model United Nations organizations, or debating society

The partial tuition waiver is renewable for 4 years contingent on the recipient's maintenance of a B average or better.
