

Youth Voting Rights: Civil Rights, the Twenty-Sixth Amendment, and the Fight for American Democracy on College Campuses
About the Authors

Jonathan Becker is Professor of Politics, Executive Vice President and Vice President for Academic Affairs at Bard College, where he is also the Director of the Center for Civic Engagement.

Yael Bromberg, Esq., a constitutional rights litigator, leading legal scholar of the Twenty-Sixth Amendment, and election law professor at American University Washington College of Law.

Lisa Bratton an Associate Professor of History at Tuskegee University.

Erin Cannan is Vice President for Civic Engagement and the Associate Director of the Center for Civic Engagement at Bard College.

Jelani Favors is United Negro College Fund Vice President and Senior Director of the Frederick D. Patterson Research Institute, and formerly the Henry E. Frye distinguished professor of history at NC A&T, and inaugural director of the Center of Excellence for Social Justice.

Simon Gilhooley is Associate Professor of Politics at Bard College.

Alexander Goodwin is a Prairie View A&M alumnus and assistant professor of political science at Southwestern University

Michael J. Nojeim is Professor and Program Coordinator of Political Science at Prairie View A&M University

Melanye Price is the inaugural director of the Ruth J. Simmons Center for Race and Justice at Prairie View A&M University.