TH312
Postdramatic and Contemporary Theater in Berlin

Seminar Leader: Nina Tecklenburg
Email: n.tecklenburg@berlin.bard.edu
Course Times: Wed 14:00-17:15
Room: performance space, factory
Office Hours: Wed 10:00-12:00 or by appointment

Course Description

The term "postdramatic theatre" was coined by the theorist and critic Hans-This Lehmann in the late 90s to describe a radical new mode of theater that repudiated "traditional" practices and assumptions. Driven by technological and social transformation, this kind of theater came to be associated with a range of features such as aesthetic innovation, emancipation from text-based theater, self-reflexiveness, equivalence of artistic means, turn to performance and – in its recent manifestations – political intervention or low-hierarchical working conditions. Though the concept is over two decades old, it has proved durable, and is often invoked to characterize Berlin’s theater world in particular.

Through an intensive theoretical and practical exploration of contemporary performing art in the city, we will look at the way in which postdramatic theater has changed and diversified. We will study works by current Berlin-based postdramatic theater makers such as Gob Squad, She She Pop, René Pollesch, Gintersdorfer/Klaßen, Rimini Protokoll, as well as works by an emerging generation and ask the question: what new aesthetic, technological and socio-political parameters are reflected in contemporary performing arts? What comes after the postdramatic theater? We will look at (post)migrant and decolonial theater; immersive and participatory theater; feminist and queer performance; posthuman, (post)digital and (post)Corona theater. Besides readings from performance studies, culture studies and social science we will create (postpostdramatic) theater, hold lecture-performance and write manifestos. No previous experience in theater and performance is necessary. Open to all students with a curiosity for experimenting with thought and theater.

Requirements

Students are expected to:

- Turn off phones during class time.
- Always allocate extra time for work preparation and clean-up for independent production.
- Inform Professor at the beginning of the semester if photos of student’s identity, artwork, works in progress are NOT to be taken and / or used for Bard College Berlin.
- Remove all artworks, art materials, and / or any personal belongings before the end of the semester. Failure to remove works or return spaces clean and empty may result in final grade penalization. Donating unrequested artworks and / or art materials is not permitted and will still be considered student property, expected to be removed by your inspection deadline. Please contact Studio Arts Manager Joo Park for more information: j.park@berlin.bard.edu

Academic Integrity

- Bard College Berlin maintains the staunchest regard for academic integrity and expects good academic practice from students in their studies. Instances in which students fail to meet the expected standards of academic integrity will be dealt with under the Code of Student Conduct, Section 14.3 (Academic Misconduct) in the Student Handbook.

Attendance

- Attendance of all classes and theater visit is expected. To account for minor circumstances, one absence (that is, absence from one three-hour session) will not affect the participation grade or require documentation. Please note: two theater visits are regarded as one three-hour session.
- Students are expected to attend all off-campus excursions punctually, from start to finish. If there is a scheduling / travel conflict, Professor must be informed in advance.
- Tardiness after ten minutes will be considered an absence.
- Please note that Bard College Berlin does not offer credit for any course in which a student has missed more than 30% of classes, regardless of the reasons for the absences, whether excused or unexcused. The full Bard College Berlin attendance policy can be found in the Student Handbook, Section 2.8.
- SPECIAL CONSIDERATIONS FOR FALL 2020: Some students might need to begin the semester remotely due to travel restrictions caused by the pandemic. In addition, all students and instructors must refrain from in-person attendance if they are feeling ill. Instructors should make efforts to offer alternatives to in-person attendance where needed, including remote participation or asynchronous options.

Policy on Late Submission of Artworks / Presentations

- Assignments (artworks, essays, performances, oral presentations) that are up to 24 hours late will be downgraded one full grade (Example: B+ becomes C+). The Professor is not obliged to accept assignments that are more than 24 hours late. Where a Professor agrees to accept a late assignment, it must be submitted within four weeks of the deadline. Thereafter, the student will receive a failing grade for the assignment. Grades and comments will be returned to students in a timely fashion. Students are also entitled to make an appointment to discuss assignments and feedback during instructors’ office hours.
- Students receive mid- and end-of-semester grades for their seminar work. Students are entitled to make an appointment with an instructor to discuss seminar participation, or may be asked to meet with the instructor at any stage in the semester regarding class progress.

Assessment

Critical thinking, creative work, collaboration: This course aims to creatively combine performance theory, analysis and practice. Due to the experimental nature of this course you will be assessed on your ambition and ability to combine critical thinking and creative art work. This course fosters artistic and intellectual collaboration amongst students. Working together independently and taking over responsibility for each other is a crucial part of this course. This also includes logistical issues such as organizing rehearsal times, collective writing & thinking times on google docs or keeping a rehearsal schedule amongst working groups.
Participation and preparation: Please complete the required homework (readings, viewings, group rehearsals) and contribute creatively and meaningfully to the exercises and discussions. You will receive a participation grade which is based on your in-class engagement and completion of homework. Please reserve 4 hours on average for weekly class preparation and asynchronous class work. Most readings will be made available through a printed reader and on Google Classroom for those students who join remotely. For further readings and research in preparation for the midterm essay please consult the books on our reserve shelf in the library.

Purchases
- Most tickets for theater visits will be purchased through the college, though some tickets may need to be purchased directly by each student at their own expense. Costs should not exceed 25 Euros per student.

Deadlines
- Final performance project (collaboratively devised in small groups): Each project will be presented as part of THE PERFORMANCE FACTORY at the end of the semester (date tbc).

Notes on remote and/or blended teaching
In order to accommodate temporary remote participation for those needing to miss classes for COVID-19 related reasons all classes will be held as synchronous blended sessions. This means that our weekly classes will take place in-person and will simultaneously be transmitted digitally via teleconference. Class exercises will be designed accordingly. Discussions of readings will take place synchronically during class time and asynchronously via google doc. Students abroad will be able to join theater visits online or – if theaters do not provide this option – students will be given an alternative (video documentations of performances). Artistic assignments will take into account the possibility for online formats. A small budget will be provided in case students need special software for online/blended performance projects. This is a course on contemporary theatre that fosters experiments. Any challenge should be regarded as a chance to reinvent theater.
