Course Description

This studio course covers the broad ceramics-making techniques at the foundational level. It explores a variety of ceramic materials and methods for producing functional ware and ceramic art objects. Students learn basic skills of clay preparation, wheel-throwing, hand-building, glazing, and applying decorations. The selected works will be fired in collaboration with the Ceramic Kingdom in Neukoelln.

Requirements

It is required that students,

- Turn off phones during class time.
- Show autonomous and robust work ethic to finish assignments outside of class.
- Demonstrate a considerate shared studio practice such as cleaning up the studio after every session.
- Have attentive and autonomous project care
- Remove all artworks, art materials, and / or any personal belongings before the end of the semester. Failure to remove works or return spaces clean and empty may result in final grade penalization. Donating unrequested artworks and / or art materials is not permitted and will still be considered student property, expected to be removed by your inspection deadline.

Ceramics is a beginner's level studio course designed to help students learn about the basic skills and techniques of pottery/ceramic art. Students will learn the context of ceramics from both historical and technical perspectives and apply the acquired knowledge to develop their artistic and practical ideas further. This course consists of slide presentations, studio demonstrations, off-campus glazing workshops, and group discussions as an integral part of the final project presentations.

Academic Integrity

Bard College Berlin maintains the highest standards of academic integrity and expects students to adhere to these standards at all times. Instances in which students fail to meet the expected standards of academic integrity will be dealt with under the Code of Student Conduct, Section 14.3 (Academic Misconduct) in the Student Handbook.

Attendance

Attendance at all classes is a crucial part of the education offered by Bard College Berlin. To account for minor circumstances, two absences from twice-per-week courses or the equivalent (e.g. one absence from a once-per-week course) should not affect the participation grade or require documentation.

It is vital that students attend the glazing class (date TBC) as this is a one-off class in which the work will be glazed before firing.

Bard College Berlin does not offer credit for any course in which a student has missed more than 30% of classes (In this course, a total of 4 classes), regardless of the reasons for the absences. The full Bard College Berlin attendance policy can be found in the Student Handbook, Section 2.8.
