

FA112 Marble Stone Sculpture

Fall 2025

Seminar Leader: Raphael Beil & Tobia Silvotti

Email: schoolofsculpture.berlin@gmail.com

Office Hours: by appointment

Course Description

This seminar introduces students to basic techniques of working stone by hand, using simple, traditional tools such as hammers and various chisels. The aim is to create our own marble sculpture. Along the way we learn how to handle the necessary tools, from the first rough work, to the differentiation and finally the partial grinding and polishing of the marble. We learn the basics of three-dimensional form, proportion and structure. In order to create our own work of art, we also discuss the possible sources of creativity, and ways of accessing inspiration and the imagination to create a very individual sculpture. The seminar will conclude with a presentation of all sculptures and joint analysis of the different artistic languages present in the works. The workshops will be accompanied by lectures on the works and public sculpture projects of Raphael Beil and other contemporary sculptors. Our workshops will take place in a sheltered beautiful garden in Reinickendorf on the grounds of Monopol.

Hand tools, work tables as well as work protection will be provided.

No previous experience is necessary to participate in the course.

During winter we work in a tent with gas heaters.

Requirements

Important: Stones (one per student from a selection of different kinds of marble and alabaster) will be provided at an extra cost of €50. We kindly ask students to bring this amount in cash to our first class on the Friday September 5th

Students are expected to:

- Turn off phones during class time.
- Initiate appointments with the Professor or arts staff outside of class time.
- Always allocate extra time for work preparation and clean-up for independent production.
- Respond to emails from their professors in a timely manner.
- Inform their professors at the beginning of the semester if photos of student's identity, artwork, works in progress are NOT to be taken and / or used for Bard College Berlin.

Academic Integrity

Bard College Berlin maintains the highest standards of academic integrity and expects students to adhere to these standards at all times. Instances in which students fail to meet the expected standards of academic integrity will be dealt with under the Code of Student Conduct, Section 14.3 (Academic Misconduct) in the Student Handbook.

Accommodations

Bard College Berlin is committed to inclusion and providing equal access to all students; we uphold and maintain all aspects of Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, and the ADA Amendments Act of 2008, and Section 3 of the German Disability Equality Act of April 27, 2002 (Federal Law Gazette I p. 1468). If you have a disability, or think you may have a disability, please contact the Disability Accommodation Coordinator, Atticus Kleen, (accommodations@berlin.bard.edu) to request an official accommodation.

Requests for accommodations should be made as early as possible to ensure adequate time for coordination and planning. Please note that accommodations are not retroactive and may require advance notice to implement.

If you have already been approved for accommodations with the Disability Accommodation Coordinator, please arrange to meet with me outside of class so that we can develop an implementation plan.

Students may face extenuating circumstances related to various personal or external factors, which impact their academic performance. While these circumstances often do not fall within the legal framework of Disability Accommodations, Bard College Berlin is committed to supporting students experiencing such circumstances. A student needing a short extension or a replacement assignment because of an extenuating circumstance is encouraged to make arrangements directly with instructors if possible. If further support is needed, please visit the Bard College Berlin Accessibility page. Questions about this process can be directed to James Harker (j.harker@berlin.bard.edu) or Maria Anderson-Long (m.andersonlong@berlin.bard.edu).

Attendance

Attendance at all classes is a crucial part of the education offered by Bard College Berlin. To account for minor circumstances, two absences from twice-per-week courses or the equivalent (e.g. one absence from a once-per-week course) should not affect the participation grade or require documentation.

It is important to consistently use all class sessions to work on the own project. This is the only way to ensure continuous progress. In addition, it is possible, after consulting with the instructors, to continue working outside of regular class hours on a voluntary basis. However, these additional hours do not replace regular attendance and cannot be credited as a substitute for missed classes

Bard College Berlin may not offer credit for any course in which a student has missed more than 30% of classes, regardless of the reasons for the absences. The full Bard College Berlin attendance policy can be found in the Student Handbook, Section 2.8.

Assessment

Friday, December 19, end-of-term examination: Presentation of completed work

- Reflection of artistic process, including the coherence and integration of vision, material and technique
- Finalized documentation as part of the presentation

Marble Stone Sculpture is a course that allows students to use stone as their primary medium of artistic production. A wide range of stones will be provided, though depending on individual project needs, some materials may need to be purchased or acquired by the students at their own expense.

All hand tools and machines are supplied by the "School of Sculpture" at no additional cost. For this class, students are required to create and present artworks that are three-dimensional stone sculptures.

Documentation of meetings on the theory of sculptural practice, design, and ideation, as well as the draft and development process of the individual project, will also be assessed.

Students are also assessed on their ability to work independently and responsibly. They will be graded on how well they communicate with the professor as well as with each other. This includes their ambition to create artworks and their willingness to budget their time to meet all requirements of this class. The assessment also covers the preparation, production, and cleaning of the spaces used at the "School of Sculpture."

Policy on Late Submission of Artworks / Presentations

Assignments (artworks, essays, performances, oral presentations) that are up to 24 hours late will be downgraded one full grade (Example: B+ becomes C+). The Professor is not obliged to accept assignments that are more than 24 hours late. Where a professor agrees to accept a late assignment, it should be submitted by the new deadline agreed upon by both parties. Thereafter, the student will receive a failing grade for the assignment. Grades and comments will be returned to students in a timely fashion. Students may make an appointment to discuss assignments and feedback during instructors' office hours.

Students receive end-of-semester grades for their seminar work. Students are entitled to make an appointment with an instructor to discuss seminar participation, or may be asked to meet with the instructor at any stage in the semester regarding class progress.
