Seminar Leader: Nadania Idriss
Email: n.idriss@berlin.bard.edu
Office Hours: by appointment

Course Description

In this weekly class, held every Wednesday from 10:00 AM to 1:00 PM, students will dive into three glassmaking techniques. The curriculum covers glass fusing, stained glass (Tiffany technique), and glassblowing. The course will conclude with a pop-up show where students can present their finished sculptures to family and friends.

Students are expected to arrive at least 10 minutes before class begins. Please come dressed in clothing you don't mind getting dirty, and note that closed-toed shoes are mandatory for safety.

This workshop is designed to provide an immersive learning experience. Participants are encouraged to approach the class with an open mind and plenty of ideas. It's important not to be discouraged if their initial attempts are not entirely successful.

Please note there is a fee of €50 for participation in this course to cover material expenses. This can be paid in cash, by wire transfer or PayPal to info@berlinglassworks.com

Academic Integrity

Bard College Berlin maintains the highest standards of academic integrity and expects students to adhere to these standards at all times. Instances in which students fail to meet the expected standards of academic integrity will be dealt with under the Code of Student Conduct, Section 14.3 (Academic Misconduct) in the Student Handbook.

Accommodations

Bard College Berlin is committed to inclusion and providing equal access to all students; we uphold and maintain all aspects of Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, and the ADA Amendments Act of 2008, and Section 3 of the German Disability Equality Act of April 27, 2002 (Federal Law Gazette I p. 1468). If you have a disability, or think you may have a disability, please contact the Disability Accommodation Coordinator, Atticus Kleen, (accommodations@berlin.bard.edu) to request an official accommodation.

Requests for accommodations should be made as early as possible to ensure adequate time for coordination and planning. Please note that accommodations are not retroactive and may require advance notice to implement.

If you have already been approved for accommodations with the Disability Accommodation Coordinator, please arrange to meet with me outside of class so that we can develop an implementation plan.

Students may face extenuating circumstances related to various personal or external factors, which impact their academic performance. While these circumstances often do not fall within the legal framework of Disability Accommodations, Bard College Berlin is committed to supporting students experiencing such circumstances. A student needing a short extension or a replacement assignment because of an extenuating circumstance is encouraged to make arrangements directly with instructors if possible. If further support is needed, please visit the Bard College Berlin Accessibility page. Questions about this process can be directed to James Harker (j.harker@berlin.bard.edu) or Maria Anderson-Long (m.andersonlong@berlin.bard.edu).

Attendance

Attendance at all classes is a crucial part of the education offered by Bard College Berlin. To account for minor circumstances, two absences from twice-per-week courses or the equivalent (e.g. one absence from a once-per-week course) should not affect the participation grade or require documentation.

Bard College Berlin may not offer credit for any course in which a student has missed more than 30% of classes, regardless of the reasons for the absences. The full Bard College Berlin attendance policy can be found in the Student Handbook, Section 2.8.

Assessment

Introduction to Glassmaking offers students the chance to work hands-on with a wide range of glass techniques, using the material as their primary medium of production. All glass materials will be provided; however, a 50€ course fee is required. No external materials may be brought into the class, as each segment focuses on specific techniques, and the schedule does not allow for individual detours or independent side-projects.

Students are required to produce and present artworks that correspond directly to the techniques taught in each segment. Evaluation will be based primarily on the completion and quality of these assigned works.

In addition, students will be assessed on their ability to work independently, responsibly, and in good communication with the Professor, the Instructors, and their peers. Professionalism, time management, and ambition in developing assigned projects all form part of the assessment criteria. This also includes preparing their workspace, participating fully during production, and cleaning up the studio at the end of each session as part of their regular responsibilities at Bard College Berlin.

Regular attendance, reliability, and respectful studio conduct are expected throughout the course.

Policy on Late Submission of Artworks / Presentations

Assignments (artworks, essays, performances, oral presentations) that are up to 24 hours late will be downgraded one full grade (Example: B+ becomes C+). The Professor is not obliged to accept assignments that are more than 24 hours late. Where a professor agrees to accept a late assignment, it should be submitted by the new deadline agreed upon by both parties. Thereafter, the student will receive a failing grade for the assignment. Grades and comments will be returned to students in a timely fashion. Students may make an appointment to discuss assignments and feedback during instructors' office hours.

Students will receive feedback for their course work during and at the end of the semester. Students are entitled to make an appointment with an instructor to discuss seminar participation, or may be asked to meet with the instructor at any stage in the semester regarding class progress.
